

Housing for international students

Securing private housing in Japan can be quite challenging for international students currently residing outside of Japan due to language barriers and the need for a local guarantor. As a result, the university rents off-campus apartments on behalf of international graduate students and provides them to students upon their request. These apartments are located within a 15 to 20 minute-walk to campus, and cost approximately JPY 35,000 to 40,000 per month.
