

Visa procedures

All international students at Soka University must abide by Japanese immigration law related to visa status. Once a student is accepted into the School of International Peace Studies, the university's International Office can assist with preparing the required documents to qualify for a student visa.

More information on visa related issues can be found through the university's International Office