

Category	Research Activities	Chances	University Research Strategy	Staff Work Schedule	State Sponsored Activities	Use of Facilities	Policy on Conflicts for Students, etc.
Normal	Normal operation	Normal operation	Normal operation	Normal operation	Normal operation	Normal operation	Normal operation
Research	Research activities are to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection.	Research (classes, seminars, and) is to be conducted as to be prevented with paying attention to prevent infection.	Research meetings are to be conducted with paying attention to prevent infection.	Regular work is to be conducted including counter services, with paying attention to prevent infection.	Researches are allowed with paying attention to prevent infection.	The use of facilities is allowed for university-related individuals with 2 exceptions in the case of persons subject to infection. In principle, visiting our facilities to non-university-related personnel is prohibited.	Only to continue to attend by being members to avoid the "Three Cs" measures in the case of persons subject to infection. In principle, visiting our facilities to non-university-related personnel is prohibited.
	Research activities are to be conducted with paying attention to prevent infection. Participating in a conference and other meetings outside campus may be prohibited when the University President, Dean of Faculty, or Dean of Graduate School appears.	Research will be conducted with caution and in caution with paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.	Research meetings should be restricted. In principle, meetings may be conducted with paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.	Conferences, etc. may be planned and held in accordance with the circumstances of the country may be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent the infection.	Only for group activities are allowed with the utmost attention to prevent infection only after approval from the Student Affairs Office or University Doctor for University Administration.	The use of facilities is allowed for the purpose that measures to prevent infection.	Those who intentionally violate when the measures for measures to prevent infection are taken are subject to be subject to the measures in the "Three Cs" measures with your attention. Conducted places with many people meeting, and those outside settings such as those range conversations" are taken and with the facilities on the number of people using the facilities, for example, meeting and facilities to non-university-related personnel is prohibited.
Normal Research	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection. Participating in a conference and other meetings outside campus may be prohibited when the University President, Dean of Faculty, or Dean of Graduate School appears.	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection.	In principle, research meetings should be restricted, taking measures such as those as follows.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when research activities are prohibited. However, if approved by the Student Affairs Office or the Graduate School for University Administration, activities are allowed with some limitations on the scale or the content of the activities, while taking measures to prevent infection and the spread of infection.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when to continue to attend should be avoided while paying the utmost attention to prevent infection. However, if approved by the University, when to continue to attend should be avoided while paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.
Small-scale Research	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection. Participating in a conference and other meetings outside campus may be prohibited when the University President, Dean of Faculty, or Dean of Graduate School appears.	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection.	In principle, research meetings should be restricted, taking measures such as those as follows.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when research activities are prohibited. However, if approved by the Student Affairs Office or the Graduate School for University Administration, activities are allowed with some limitations on the scale or the content of the activities, while taking measures to prevent infection and the spread of infection.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when to continue to attend should be avoided while paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.
Medium-scale Research	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection. Participating in a conference and other meetings outside campus may be prohibited when the University President, Dean of Faculty, or Dean of Graduate School appears.	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection.	In principle, research meetings should be restricted, taking measures such as those as follows.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when research activities are prohibited. However, if approved by the Student Affairs Office or the Graduate School for University Administration, activities are allowed with some limitations on the scale or the content of the activities, while taking measures to prevent infection and the spread of infection.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when to continue to attend should be avoided while paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.
Large-scale Research	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection. Participating in a conference and other meetings outside campus may be prohibited when the University President, Dean of Faculty, or Dean of Graduate School appears.	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection.	In principle, research meetings should be restricted, taking measures such as those as follows.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when research activities are prohibited. However, if approved by the Student Affairs Office or the Graduate School for University Administration, activities are allowed with some limitations on the scale or the content of the activities, while taking measures to prevent infection and the spread of infection.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when to continue to attend should be avoided while paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.
Research	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection. Participating in a conference and other meetings outside campus may be prohibited when the University President, Dean of Faculty, or Dean of Graduate School appears.	In principle, research is to be conducted normally, with paying attention to prevent infection.	In principle, research meetings should be restricted, taking measures such as those as follows.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when research activities are prohibited. However, if approved by the Student Affairs Office or the Graduate School for University Administration, activities are allowed with some limitations on the scale or the content of the activities, while taking measures to prevent infection and the spread of infection.	While paying the utmost attention to prevent infection, research meetings are to be conducted with the utmost attention to prevent infection.	In principle, when to continue to attend should be avoided while paying the utmost attention to prevent infection.